FEBRUARY 2021

Protecting the privacy and safeguarding the personal and financial information of our existing customers, former customers, and persons who visit our website is one of our highest priorities. The following statement explains how GoDo Ltd (“GoDo” or “we” or “us”) collects, maintains, and protects your information.

By your use of any website operated by GoDo or any of our affiliates or opening an account with GoDo or any of our affiliate, you give your consent to the collection and use of personal information by GoDo as explained in this statement.

COLLECTION AND RETENTION OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We collect your personal information both directly from you and indirectly as a result of your relationship with us. We may use the information collected to verify your identity, open a trading account for you (including issuing you with an account number and password), provide statements and trade confirmations, facilitate account funding and withdrawals, amongst other account and customer service related reasons. We may also use this information to notify you of any new and existing products, services, and promotions that may be of interest to you.

Most of the information we collect is provided directly by you. This information includes, but is not limited to, personal details, such as your name, address, date of birth, telephone number, and e-mail address, information required pursuant to regulatory requirements verifying your identities, such as a passport or other government-issued photo identification, financial information such as your account trading details, annual income, net worth, risk capital financial information, bank account details, and credit card information, and other information such as your IP address, web browser type, operating system, and your internet service provider. We will limit the collection of personal information to what is necessary to enable us to provide you with services and products. You may request a copy of the most up-to-date version of your personal information held by us and you may request any correction, amendment, or update to maintain the accuracy of your personal information. Should you close your account with us, we will retain your personal information, but we will only use it to comply with our regulatory requirements and to periodically contact you to notify you of new products, services, and promotions we may offer from time to time

DISCLOSURE WITH AFFILIATES.

We may share your personal, financial, and account information with our affiliates for business, marketing and customer service purposes, as permitted by applicable law. Our affiliates are companies that are controlled or directly or indirectly owned by us: and include financial service companies, such as dealers and other brokerage firms. to help us improve our services to you, we may engage another business to help us carry out certain internal functions, such as account processing, fulfillment, client service, client satisfaction surveys, or other data collection activities relevant to our business. We may also provide a non-affiliated third party with client information from our database, including your name, address, phone number, and/or e-mail address, to help us analyze and identify client needs, notify clients of product and service offerings or conduct general marketing and market research for us.

DISCLOSURE WITH NON-AFFILIATED THIRD PARTIES

We will not sell, license, lease or otherwise disclose your personal information to any third party for any reason, except as described below. In order to support the products and services we provide to you, we may share your personal and account information with third-party service providers and joint marketers not affiliated with us, including but not limited to financial service institutions with whom we have joint marketing agreements, such as agreements to market financial services or products that we jointly offer, endorse or sponsor; and companies under contract to perform services for us or on our behalfs, such as vendors that prepare and mail statements and transaction confirmations or provide data processing, computer software maintenance, and development, transaction processing, and marketing services.

We generally require that all non-affiliated third parties to which we provide your nonpublic information agree to keep your information confidential and use such information solely for the limited purpose for which we have engaged them, or as otherwise required by law. We also seek to ensure that these non-affiliated third parties maintain appropriate data security procedures to guard against unauthorized use of, or access to, your information. Please note that non-affiliated third parties are not covered by our Privacy Policy. We may disclose personal information with non-affiliated companies and regulatory authorities as permitted or required by applicable law. For example, we may disclose personal information to cooperate with regulatory authorities and law enforcement agencies to comply with subpoenas or other official requests, and as necessary to protect our rights or property.

SECURITY OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We employ physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards in order to protect your personal, financial, and account information and to offer you a safe and secure trading environment.
